

Handwritten header text, possibly a title or reference number, located at the top of the page.

Handwritten text line, likely a classification or description of the specimen.

Handwritten text line, likely a classification or description of the specimen.

Handwritten text line, likely a classification or description of the specimen.

Handwritten text line, likely a classification or description of the specimen.

Handwritten text at the bottom right of the page, possibly a signature or date.