

| No.           | NGR             |                 | Material         |                | Date of find | Condition(complete) |          |
|---------------|-----------------|-----------------|------------------|----------------|--------------|-------------------------|----------|
| 50192         |                 |                 | ? VI             |                |              |                         |          |
| WEIGHT610 | POLEDWID3.0 | BLADANG-    | GRIFROPL         | GRIFROBY       | GRIFROBL     | POLFROBY                | POLFROBL |
| CORFROPL0 | CORFROBY0   | CORBAPL0    | CORBABY0     | MAXTHICK36 | POLTHICK     | BLATHICK                | LEFTHICK |
| RITHICK       | TOPTHICK        | BOTTHICK        | MAXLENG          | POLENG         | BLALENG      | MAXWID                  | POLWID   |
| BLAWID        | LENGMAXT        | LENGMAXW        | GRIPOLED(25) | LONPOLED25 | AREAPOLL     | AREABODY                | AREABLAL |
| AREABLAR      | GRINSIDE225 | LONGSIDE225 | LEFEDWID8.0  |                |              |                         |          |
|               |                 |                 |                  |                |              |                         |          |

Find place Solway Moss

|                    |                       |                 |
|--------------------|-----------------------|-----------------|
| CollectionB.M. | Labels" 57 "1 | Date 13. 10. 78 |
|--------------------|-----------------------|-----------------|

- Comments
1. not sliced
  2. very distinct handle stain. The wood has protected the underlying stone from the excessive weathering which has affected the rest of the celt. Where the handle was, the stone is smooth, and coloured pale creamy blue. Elsewhere the stone feels like chalk to touch & is a rusty buff colour.
  3. Proc. Soc. Ant. 4, 112